Pre-Dawn Blaze Destroys Vocational Building At Kinston High

The Vocational Agriculture and Home Economics building located on the campus of Kinston High School was totally destroyed by fire on Thursday morning, May 16, and Coffee County Supt. of Education John W. Vaughan reports the cost to build and re-equip the building could exceed $350,000. A truck driver reported the fire to Kinston police at 4:00 a.m., and firemen from Kinston, Samson and Opp fought the blaze, preventing it from spreading to the actual school building and igniting a nearby propane gas tank.

The building, which was constructed of wood in the 1930's, housed an agriculture classroom, a home economics classroom, an ag shop, a kitchen and a large living area.

"The building that burned was the most extensively equipped part of the school," said Vaughan. "County schools participate in a state insurance fund and the building was valued at only $12,000 due to its age. To build a new building that will meet minimum state requirements will cost $250,000, while the equipment will cost at least $30,000. We will get some state money from a special fund which aids schools damaged by fire, but it won't come close to meeting our needs. I assure the people of Kinston, however, that they will have to go to the home ec facilities next year.

A state fire marshal will examine the remains of the building this week in an effort to determine the cause of the blaze.

ALL THAT REMAINS... Charred wood and blackened brick were all that remained of the Kinston Vocational Education building following the fire Thursday morning, May 16.

New Brockton Man Burned To Death In Early Morning Fire

A New Brockton man was burned to death last weekend when an early morning fire totally destroyed a small, wood frame house located on South John Street.

The victim, identified as David Beckworth, age 20, reportedly stopped at the home of his brother, L.D. Beckworth, at 612 S. John Street early Saturday to spend the night. The elder Beckworth and his two children slept in the rear of the home, while the younger brother was to sleep on a sofa in the front room.

children, ages 10 and 14, escaped the fire through a back door; however, David Beckworth couldn't escape the flames, and when authorities located his charred remains, he was one-and-a-half to two feet from the front door.

State forensic experts had to use dental plates and records to make a positive identification due to the condition of the remains.

New Brockton Police Chief Gordon Luck stated the home had been rented by L.D. Beckworth for approximately one year.

Elba Rescue Squad Is Again In Need Of Additional Members

The Elba Rescue Squad is again in need of additional volunteers to assist in its operation. The squad currently has a number of members pulling double shifts due to the staff shortage, and members are needed who can be on call at night.

Under normal circumstances, a member would be on call once every six days and each sixth weekend. Individuals may be trained as emergency medical technicians by attending classes at Enterprise State Junior College on Monday and Wednesday nights for one quarter. The state and local rescue squad will reimburse the individual for tuition and books.

Elba needs its rescue squad and the squad needs additional help! For more information call Dawn Gwin - 897-5825, or Sonny Inman - 897-2889, or talk with any active squad member.

Construction To Top $20 Million In Second District

Congressman William L. Dickinson announced recently that the House Armed Services Subcommittee on Military Installations and Facilities, of which he is a member, has taken the first step toward funding ten military construction projects in Alabama's Second District by reporting its bill this week.

The proposed $20 million in construction for the District includes improvements to the Army Aviation Museum; land acquisition and construction of classroom buildings and officers' housing at Fort Rucker; improvements to family housing and electrical facilities; construction of officers' quarters and additions to the Historical Research Center and the Squadron Officers School at Maxwell Air Force Base; as well as an addition to the Computer Center at Gunter Air Force Station in Montgomery. Dickinson expressed his pleasure at the Subcommittee's approval of these projects—especially the museum at Fort Rucker and the officers' quarters at Maxwell which were added to the 1986 budget at his request. However, the Congressman stressed that the 1986 Military Construction Budget is limited and that these projects still require the approval of the full House Armed Services Committee, the entire House of Representatives, a House-Senate Conference Committee, and the President of the United States before their inclusion in the 1986 budget is assured. Dickinson pledged his continued full support for these projects throughout the remainder of the budget process.

State Troopers Expect 10 People To Die During Memorial Day Holiday

The Alabama Department of Public Safety estimates that 10 people will die in traffic accidents during the Memorial Day holiday, according to Col. Byron Prescott, department director.

The 78-hour holiday period begins at 6 p.m. Friday, May 24, and ends at midnight Monday, May 27. Last year during the Memorial Day holiday, seven traffic fatalities were recorded, six on rural roadways and one on urban.

Prescott encouraged all motorists to use extreme caution when traveling during peak holiday traffic. "We expect a greater than usual number of motorists traveling in Alabama, and that requires greater care on everyone's part," he said.

Prescott said motorists can help insure their safety and that of others by obeying all traffic laws, including the speed limit, and by using safety belts and child restraints.

"Most important, however, is observance of Alabama's DUI law," he said. "The drinking driver is the most dangerous driver to himself and to other motorists and pedestrians. I urge all Alabamians never to get behind the wheel after drinking or using drugs."

Commission To Meet On Tuesday, May 28

The Coffee County Commission will meet in regular session on Tuesday, May 28, at 9 a.m. at the Enterprise courthouse.

The meeting was scheduled for May 27, but changed due to the Memorial Day holiday.

Zoning Board Denies Request To Rezone

The Elba Planning and Zoning Board Monday turned down a request to rezone property owned by Douglas Gibbs from R-1 to R-2 following protest from area residents.

Gibbs had requested the rezoning as the first step in a two-step effort to allow his son to park a mobile home on the property fronting on the new Elba bypass.

RESCUE WORKERS TRANSPORT VICTIM... Members of the Elba Rescue Squad prepare to transport Jackie Tucker to the Elba General Hospital following Monday afternoon's two-vehicle wreck.

Elba Man Saved From Death At Monday Wreck

A two-vehicle accident Monday evening hospitalized Jackie Tucker who was reportedly recovering from his injuries, thanks to fast action by the Elba Rescue Squad. Tucker had passed out and reportedly was not breathing when rescue personnel arrived on the scene. Correct first aid got him breathing and stable before he was transported to the hospital.

Driver of the car that apparently struck Tucker from the rear was Michael Maddox. Maddox reported he couldn't see because of the fog created by the Elba mosquito truck.

EXTENSIVE DAMAGE... This late-model vehicle, driven by Jackie Tucker, sits just off the roadway after receiving extensive damage in a two-vehicle accident Monday afternoon near Brookdale.

Brainstorms.....

With Ferrin Cox

The Alabama legislature has adjourned without doing an excessive amount of damage to us taxpayers. While they did pass some bills we didn't approve of, it wasn't as bad as it could have been. We share Governor Wallace's feelings of not being in to big a rush to get that bunch back up there!

We don't know any more than anyone else about Wallace's plans for seeking re-election, but we feel strongly that he will. It amuses us to hear all the rumors flying from Montgomery about what Wallace will or will not do. This makes us feel a bit better about the wild stories we hear around Elba that have just as little fact behind them.

A young man commented to my daughter last week that he expected another story about the fish that got away, but I ain't gonna do that. His offer to show me how to catch those big fish is also declined, as that very day I was looking for someone to give fish to, because I was too tired and lazy to dress them. Now, Mark, you top that one!

Saturday morning we bumped into Representative Jimmy Holley downtown. We commented to him about approving a position he took in the legislature recently. However, we explained we were reluctant to mention it to him at the time because we had just a couple of weeks before patted him on the back for another vote he cast, and if we bragged on him twice in a row, he might begin to believe we either liked him or were getting ready to run against him... or something! He agreed that two compliments from this corner would be a bit suspicious!

We read in a neighboring paper of someone taking a tour with the Air Force and visiting the highly secret radar installation of NORAD near Colorado Springs, Colorado. We made that trip ten or fifteen years ago under slightly different conditions. We too were visiting, but a friend grew up with the four-star general in command, and a group of us boarded an Air Force plane in Montgomery, Alabama, for our trip. We got the royal treatment as well as the ride. It seems that four-star generals are wheels in the military, and since we were with him, we couldn't even open a gum wrapper without some aide trying to help us. Our trip was in the fall and with the Air Force Academy playing some big football game the day we were to leave. I heard a couple of muttered prayers for a snow storm to ground our plane - but it didn't happen.

I also must note the difference in that trip to Colorado Springs and one I made several years prior to that. The first trip was as a guest of the U.S. Army at Fort Carson, also in the same town. I got there during the first week in January for boot camp. It was the first time this country boy had been in more than an inch of snow, but for the next ten weeks I saw some cold, miserable times. The difference in seeing it while wallowing in the snow and mud as compared with wearing a suit and tie while riding in a chauffeured limo is dramatic to say the least!

PASTOR'S CORNER

DAVID RICHBURG
WHITEWATER BAPTIST CHURCH

The fruits of the Spirit verify the fact that we are a Christian. The first three are produced as a result of the Christian's relationship with God - i.e., love, joy, peace.

The second group of qualities relates to the outward dimension. Longsuffering or patience, the first of these three, is a part of the nature of God, although everything about our society is opposed to this. We are the instant "now" generation, with a desire for things to happen before - quick; we live our lives as though we were a day late and a dollar short.

But God has always been patient with man; if He had not He would have destroyed us long ago. We even ask questions about why God doesn't step in and stop the evil of the present day. Why does God allow war, cancer, or hostility and prejudices to continue? With Him there is no timetable - a day is as a thousand years and a thousand years as a day. We desperately need this characteristic.

Kindness - (gentleness) - This is longsuffering in action. We may pay back a material loan, but why will never be able to repay an act of kindness. If the Holy Spirit could have His way our lives would be filled with kindness. It is possible to be unkind with our efforts. The world seeks kind people, and kind people never have a shortage of friends.

Goodness - this was a favorite word of Paul's; you might translate his words in 2 Thessalonians 1:11 to say, "May the power of God satisfy your every desire for goodness."

I can look at and admire the best piano in the world, but I can't sit down to it and play one note. This says nothing about the quality of the piano, but rather about us.

Every life is like a piano - it contains the potential for harmony or discord. The difference will be determined by the person seated at the keyboard. When the Holy Spirit controls our thoughts, deeds and relationships, harmony will be the result. But when we try to do it ourselves, discord is the result. It is not God's fault when we become sounding brass or a clanging cymbal.

The church is located approximately three-and-a-half miles north of Samson on Highway 87.

Sunday services will be at 2:30 p.m. and weekdays at 7:30 p.m.

For information and registration, call 205/263-2565.

Revival and Sing at Friendship Holiness Church in Friendship Community, near Danley's Crossroads, on County Road 70, will have revival and sing this week.

Speaker for Thursday and Friday, May 23 and 24, will be Calvin Ramey at 7:30 p.m.

Saturday, May 25, the Floyd Family of Largo, Florida, will sing and also on Sunday at regular service in morning and evening. The Floyd Family will sing, and Brad Martin will be the speaker.

The church is located three miles west of Danley Crossroads.

The first parking meter appeared in Oklahoma City on July 15, 1935.

Miss Fowler - Mr. Lackey United In Marriage

Miss Janice Lynn Fowler, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Fred A. Fowler of Elba, and Larry Lackey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Lackey, Axtell, Kansas, were united in marriage on Saturday, April 13, 1985, at the New Hope Baptist church in Seneca, Kansas. The Rev. Fred Fowler and Rev. Cliff Ramsey officiated the ceremony.

A program of wedding music was provided by Hazel Strickland, friend of the couple, and Francine Jones, sister of the bride. The music consisted of "We've Only Just Begun", "Oh Promise Me", "The Wedding Song", congregational song and "Bind Us Together".

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Sherry Tolbert, sister of the bride, who also attended the bridal registry. A table skirted with an ivory cloth displayed a candle decorated with pastel-colored daisies and held the guest book.

The church was decorated with ferns, daisies and unity candles on the altar. Family chairs were marked with white bows and daisies.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was escorted by her father. She wore a white gown with tiered skirt of sheer polyester with acetate lining and lace trim. An open neckline with pearl trim, puffed sleeves and a slightly raised waistline completed the gown. The lace trim provided a basque effect. The dress had a chapel-length train. The bride wore a fingertip veil and blusher trimmed with chantilly lace with pearl and sequin trim on a lace cap. Her bouquet was a cascade of pastel-colored daisies, ferns and baby's breath.

Miss Anita Hataway of Elba served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Laurie Bishop, sister of the bride; Angie and Annette Lackey, sisters of the groom. Flower girl was Chastity Murphy, niece of the groom.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore floor-length gowns with Queen Anne necklines, puffed sleeves and ruffles at the bottom. The dresses were accented with ribbons on the sleeves and around the ruffle, and each was a different pastel color. Each attendant carried a nosegay of daisies, ferns and baby's breath, matching the color of her dress. The flower girl carried a basket of yellow daisies.

Mr. Alan Dorrance of Axtell, Kansas, served as best man. Groomsmen were John Meyer, friend of the groom; Bill Bishop, brother-in-law of the bride; and Mark Lackey, brother of the groom, all from Axtell. They wore white tuxedos with the cummerbunds and bow ties matching the bridesmaids'.

The bride and groom were entertained with a dance at the American Legion Hall after the reception.

The newlyweds are now residing in Axtell.

COMMON GARDENING QUESTIONS

Here are five of the most often asked questions about gardening. I hope these answers will help you if you should have any of these questions.

Question 1. My squash have plenty of blooms but no fruit. What's wrong?

Answer: Squash, cucumber and cantaloupe produce both male and female flowers. In squash, the male flower is produced on a long, slender flower stalk about the size of a soda straw. The female flower can be found on the end of an immature fruit. Male flowers pollinate and do not bear fruit; only female flowers produce fruit. Early in the season, some plants will have a lot of male flowers and very few female flowers. This situation soon corrects itself. Eventually, you'll have a balance of male and female flowers.

Question 2. My tomatoes have black spots on the end of each fruit. How can I correct this problem?

Answer: Your tomatoes have blossom end rot. Blossom end rot is thought to be a calcium deficiency brought on by drought stress. The dark brown spot permanently damages the fruit and should be removed from the vines.

Spray the plants twice a week with a solution of 4 tablespoons of calcium chloride in a gallon of water. This offers temporary relief.

Prevention of this problem begins with deep land preparation, liming and fertilizing according to soil test results. Mulch tomatoes to cut down on weed competition and water as needed to prevent drought stress.

Question 3. Why aren't my tomatoes setting fruit?

Answer: Tomatoes seldom set fruit when the night temperatures drop below 55 degrees F. or day temperatures rise above 75 degrees F. Tomatoes also set less fruit when planted in the shade or when high rates of nitrogen are applied.

It's best to plant tomatoes in full sun and delay sidedressing until the first fruit is the size of a golf ball.

Question 4. My squash plants wilt and die quickly, and I find some holes in the stalk near the soil line. What's killing my plants?

Answer: Your problem is the squash vine borer. A small wasp-like insect lays eggs on the vine near the soil line. When the eggs hatch, the insects bore into the vine.

Weekly applications of Sevin, Malathion or Rotenone covering all of the runners should give control. Take time to spray the runners.

under the leaf canopy. This is important for prevention.

Question 5. Why have my tomato plants suddenly lost their leaves?

Answer: There are a lot of leaf diseases that hit tomatoes every year. Early blight, late blight, septoria leafspot, gray leafspot, gray leaf mold and bacterial leafspot are some of the more common leaf diseases that cause serious leaf loss.

Prevention is the key to protecting tomatoes. Spray tomatoes on a 7- to 10-day schedule with Maneb, Zineb or Bravo. Start when plants are 8 to 10 inches high and continue throughout the season. This kind of spray program should hold most of the foliage and give a long, productive tomato season.

TOMATOES

Tomatoes are probably the most popular vegetable crop that we grow. And it is a crop that will produce fruit until frost. Last year I harvested my last vine ripe tomatoes on December 15.

In order to get this length of production, there are certain things you need to do to tomatoes such as staking, pruning, sidedressing, insect and disease control. We have an excellent fact sheet on tomato production that covers these subjects in detail. You can have one of these by calling 894-5596.

PEST CONTROL

Spraying fruit and nut trees is an absolute must for producing worm-free fruit. Most fruits are subject to attacks by insects and diseases. Apples, pears, peaches, plums and bunch grapes especially require spraying to prevent damage by pests. The number of applications necessary depends on fruit varieties and weather conditions. Successful control depends on three things:

1. Using the right kind and amount of pesticide.
2. Spraying at the right time.
3. Covering the entire plant.

Usually, 6 to 10 applications are needed to get good control. Also, special sprays are required for specific insects and diseases such as borers control in peaches and plums or fire blight control on apples and pears.

To get a free copy of the spray schedules you'll need for fruit trees around your home, call or come by the County Extension Office in New Brockton. Ask for Circular ANR-50, "Spraying Home Orchards."

PRETTY LAWNS

We get calls from homeowners wanting to know people who do lawn care work. We are fortunate in that we have several individuals and firms who do this type of work in Enterprise, New Brockton and Elba. I don't have an edger, and my lawn is not nearly as attractive as it could be.

A few days ago Val Karrasch, who lives in New Brockton, came by and talked about the services which she is offering homeowners.

I am glad to see young people who are willing to work hard begin a new business. Congratulations and best wishes to Val Karrasch.

CATFISH

There is a lot of interest in catfish production in Coffee County. I have heard that the Andalusia Catfish Processing Facility might re-open. It has been closed now for about three years.

During recent months catfish prices have gone up because a lot of fish are eaten in the winter and early spring. The supply of catfish may be limited later in the year.

Dr. John Jensen, our catfish production and marketing specialist, will be with us on the 19th of June for a meeting. We will decide on the time later. If you are interested in catfish production and marketing, mark your calendar and plan to be with us on June 19.

BE ACCURATE

A lot of herbicides will be used in the next few days to control weeds and grasses in peanuts. Each year I see places in fields that received too much herbicide. Many times this causes a severe stunting of the peanuts. In other areas not enough herbicide is applied and weeds and grasses take over.

Be sure to calibrate your spray rig carefully in order to put out the recommended amount of herbicide per acre. Check your spray nozzles and replace them if they become worn. Worn nozzles will waste a lot of spray. Be sure that a uniform amount of spray is coming out of each nozzle. Don't forget to discard used cans.

THRIPS CONTROL IN PEANUTS

Because of high costs and non-availability of materials, some Coffee County peanut producers didn't use a systemic insecticide which can control thrips. Controlling thrips won't guarantee yield increases, but it does help the seedlings grow more rapidly. Rapid seedling growth is desirable, especially when there are other unfavorable growing conditions.

You can make foliar treatments to help peanuts grow off rapidly. For these foliar sprays to be effective, however, you need to apply them within a week or two after the peanut plant comes up.

To control thrips, band either one-half pound of Orthene 758 (active ingredients per acre, or any of the labeled formulations of Sevin - a half pound of active ingredients per acre.)

WEED CONTROL DEMONSTRATIONS

Five Coffee County farmers are conducting a herbicide demonstration to learn how to control weeds and grasses in soybeans. Heavy weed and grass infestations severely reduce soybean yields. We have problems especially with coffee weed. Florida

SEWING CLASSES

Plans have been made for other sewing classes. A beginning sewing class has been set for 9:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m. on June 4 and 6. This two day sewing class will permit you to complete a dress.

We are looking for those of you who will like to knit a Rag Sweater. The time and date hasn't been set for this workshop. Do let me know if you are interested.

I have already gotten several names of people who want to alter patterns. Very shortly this date will be set.

If you would like to have more information and/or enroll in either of these classes, call us at the number above.

PROPER FOOD STORAGE

Poor refrigerator food storage represents thousands of dollars which we as homemakers unknowingly throw away each year. A little extra care can save you money and the food you buy will stay fresh longer, retain more nutritional value and remain safe to eat.

Proper storage begins at the supermarket. Put frozen and refrigerator foods in your cart last. Bag these items in the same bag. These items stay colder during the trip home, and putting the groceries away becomes less of a chore.

Storing refrigerated foods properly may not be enough, especially if your refrigerator is too warm. Check the temperature. The thermometer should always register 34 to 40 degrees. During the summer, it's a good idea to keep the refrigerator a little colder than usual.

PRESSURE GAUGE TESTED

With canning season here, you may need your pressure cooker gauge tested for accuracy. We do the testing at our office in New Brockton. All you need to do is bring your canner lid to the office. It takes just a few minutes. We can't test the weighted ones.

Economics Class Has Guest Speaker

By: JANET STEWART
As a reinforcement to a chapter on insurance, Mrs. Powell's senior economics class recently had a visit from Larry Pope, a Farm Bureau Insurance agent. He explained to the class members about the different kinds of insurance and answered their questions.

The students learned that insurance rates are based on risk factors. Insurance for males is more expensive than for females because statistics show that males have more accidents than females. The greatest risk, statistics indicate, is an unmarried male under age 25 who uses an automobile primarily to travel to and from work.

Several factors are used to determine the cost of insurance. Frequency of claims is what causes rates to go up. Negligence, drug charges, traffic tickets, and the length of time a family has been with a particular company also affect the rates. Insurance on high performance cars rates higher than that for other cars. Two conditions that will cause rates to drop almost in half are reaching the age of 25 and marriage.

Discounts are given by some companies for honor students and students who have taken driver education in school. Farm Bureau gives the maximum discount, which is 30 percent, for students meeting both of these criteria.

In order to have full coverage on an automobile, a person must have comprehensive, liability and collision. A person cannot have collision without having liability. Comprehensive insurance covers such areas as theft claims and accidents that occur as the result of animals. The higher the deductible for insurance, the less the risk.

Besides discussing automobile insurance, Mr. Pope also talked about life insurance and home-owners insurance. The cost of life insurance, the class learned, is determined by a mortality table. The cost of life insurance does not go up as a person gets older. Life insurance rates have dropped 16 percent over the past few years.

Under home-owners insurance, the company has 60 days to investigate a fire claim. By law the insurance company must pay the mortgage of property, regardless of the cause of the loss or damage.

Teacher Day U.S.A. Observed May 9th

By: Rhonda Senn

Teachers deserve a break, too! The National Education Association, The Alabama Education Association and the Coffee County Teachers Association made that wish come true last Thursday, May 9. A new Teacher Day U.S.A. was established nationwide to show appreciation for those who teach America's kids.

Mrs. Onita Archie, president of CCTA, directed the Teacher Day U.S.A. for Coffee County using guidelines for the N.E.A. The faculty representatives for Zion Chapel, Mrs. Rachel Bryan and Mrs. Peggy Storey, and Mrs. Gail Jackson, vice-president/president-elect of the CCTA, prepared the day's activities for Zion Chapel.

Posters were made announcing Teacher Day U.S.A. and badges were given to each teacher to wear. Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. Storey and Mrs. Jackson made refreshments for the teachers that included cheeseballs and crackers, cookies, chips and dip, and pound cake. These refreshments were served in the high school and elementary lounges at the morning break. The teachers also received an apple from Superintendent John W. Vaughan and the Coffee County Board of Education.

4th Grade Visits State Capitol

By: Sarah Campbell

The fourth grade class at Zion Chapel was taken on a tour of the state capitol in Montgomery.

They visited the Capitol, the Archives and History building, the Little White House of the Confederacy and the Montgomery zoo. The children enjoyed the trip but the Archives building was enjoyed the most. The War Memorial, which had all types of guns and weapons, was a favorite for the boys. The girls liked seeing the Emma Sansom dress and the Indian room. In the Indian room a ceremonial shirt, worn by the Indian chief, was decorated with scalps of his enemies, both Indian and white men. All of the children enjoyed that.

Mrs. Rebecca Jackson, the bus driver, did such a great job that she was presented with a beautiful hanging basket by Mrs. Sutley, Mrs. Refegee and the fourth grade class.

6th Grade Winners - Mrs. Syble Hahn's class.

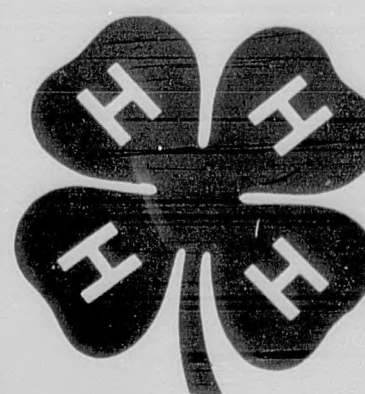

5th Grade Winners - Mrs. Mary Lois Wilson's class.

4th Grade Winners - Mrs. Callie Coleman's class.

LIFESTYLE

That word wasn't used much 50 years ago, especially on the farm. Life was hard; there was little time for "style."

You milked by hand... battled drought to raise a crop... canned in the intolerably hot kitchen in the heat of summer... chopped kindling and carried wood and water several times a day... and then, there was the outhouse.

Rural electrification changed all of that.

Milking machines, irrigation, refrigeration, light and power, indoor plumbing... and all because of a slender wire that transformed life in the countryside.

The commitment of 50 years ago was to improve the quality of life for rural people. Still is. Consumer-owned rural electric systems like ours continue to strive to improve rural living through rural electrification... for a better lifestyle.

FHA Hears About Child Abuse

By: Janet Stewart

Ron Smith and Ms. Joan Barrett from the Coffee County Pensions and Security Office in Elba spoke to the FHA members at the April meeting about child abuse. Ms. Barrett is a social worker, and Mr. Smith is the director of Coffee County Pensions and Security Office.

Mr. Smith told the group that last year there were 28,000 reports of child abuse and neglect in Alabama. Out of these, 273 were in Coffee County.

Ms. Barrett explained that a social worker's job is to help children and their parents. The Alabama law that was established in 1975 recognizes four areas of child abuse and neglect. These areas are physical abuse, neglect, emotional abuse, and sexual abuse. The law defines a child as anyone under 18 years of age. Most studies show that parents who abuse were abused themselves as children.

Mr. Smith and Ms. Barrett urged the students to let someone know if they are being abused or if they know of someone who is being abused. People to contact are teachers and principals, the police, and the Pensions and Security Office. The number of the office is 897-3424. Teachers are among approximately 20 professionals who are mandated to report possible cases of child abuse.

The drum player is Phil Pythorn who graduated from Z.C. in 1981. The C.P. Livingston Band played many songs for the FFA members, most of which were written and sung by David.

Economics Class Has Guest Speaker

By: JANET STEWART
As a reinforcement to a chapter on insurance, Mrs. Powell's senior economics class recently had a visit from Larry Pope, a Farm Bureau Insurance agent. He explained to the class members about the different kinds of insurance and answered their questions.

The students learned that insurance rates are based on risk factors. Insurance for males is more expensive than for females because statistics show that males have more accidents than females. The greatest risk, statistics indicate, is an unmarried male under age 25 who uses an automobile primarily to travel to and from work.

There are four classes of rates: preferred rate, standard rate, high risk rate and assigned risk rate. The preferred rate is the cheapest. The lowest rate on automobile insurance is assigned to a family with no male driver under 25 and with the car not used for business nor driven to work. Under an assigned risk, a pool of companies insures someone through the state that no one company will insure.

Several factors are used to determine the cost of insurance. Frequency of claims is what causes rates to go up. Negligence, drug charges, traffic tickets, and the length of time a family has been with a particular company also affect the rates. Insurance on high performance cars rates higher than that for other cars. Two conditions that will cause rates to drop almost in half are reaching the age of 25 and marriage. Discounts are given by some companies for honor students and students who have taken driver education in school. Farm Bureau gives the maximum discount, which is 30 percent, for students meeting both of these criteria.

In order to have full coverage on an automobile, a person must have comprehensive, liability and collision. A person cannot have collision without having liability. Comprehensive insurance covers such areas as theft claims and accidents that occur as the result of animals. The higher the deductible for insurance, the less the risk.

Besides discussing automobile insurance, Mr. Pope also talked about life insurance and homeowners insurance. The cost of life insurance, the class learned, is determined by a mortality table. The cost of life insurance does not go up as a person gets older. Life insurance rates have dropped 16 percent over the past few years.

Under homeowners insurance, the company has 60 days to investigate a fire claim. By law the insurance company must pay the mortgage of property, regardless of the cause of the loss or damage.

LIFESTYLE

That word wasn't used much 50 years ago, especially on the farm. Life was hard; there was little time for "style."

You milked by hand... battled drought to raise a crop... canned in the intolerably hot kitchen in the heat of summer... chopped kindling and carried wood and water several times a day... and then, there was the outhouse.

Rural electrification changed all of that.

Milking machines, irrigation, refrigeration, light and power, indoor plumbing... and all because of a slender wire that transformed life in the countryside.

The commitment of 50 years ago was to improve the quality of life for rural people. Still is. Consumer-owned rural electric systems like ours continue to strive to improve rural living through rural electrification... for a better lifestyle.

Teacher Day U.S.A. Observed May 9th

By: Rhonda Senn
Teachers deserve a break, too! The National Education Association, The Alabama Education Association and the Coffee County Teachers Association made that wish come true last Thursday, May 9. A new Teacher Day U.S.A. was established nationwide to show appreciation for those who teach America's kids.

Mrs. Onita Archie, president of CCTA, directed the Teacher Day U.S.A. for Coffee County using guidelines for the N.E.A. The faculty representatives for Zion Chapel, Mrs. Rachel Bryan and Mrs. Peggy Storey, and Mrs. Gail Jackson, vice-president/president-elect of the CCTA, prepared the day's activities for Zion Chapel.

Posters were made announcing Teacher Day U.S.A. and badges were given to each teacher to wear. Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. Storey and Mrs. Jackson made refreshments for the teachers that included cheeseballs and crackers, cookies, chips and dip, and pound cake. These refreshments were served in the high school and elementary lounges at the morning break. The teachers also received an apple from Superintendent John W. Vaughan and the Coffee County Board of Education.

4th Grade Visits State Capitol

By: Sarah Campbell
The fourth grade class at Zion Chapel was taken on a tour of the state capital in Montgomery. They visited the Capitol, the Archives and History building, the Little White House of the Confederacy and the Montgomery zoo. The children enjoyed the trip but the Archives building was enjoyed the most. The War Memorial, which had all types of guns and weapons, was a favorite for the boys. The girls liked seeing the Emma Sanson dress and the Indian room. In the Indian room a ceremonial shirt, worn by the Indian chief, was decorated with scalps of his enemies, both Indian and white men. All of the children enjoyed that.

Mrs. Rebecca Jackson, the bus driver, did such a great job that she was presented with a beautiful hanging basket by Mrs. Suttley, Mrs. Refugee and the fourth grade class.

6th Grade Winners - Mrs. Syble Hahn's class.

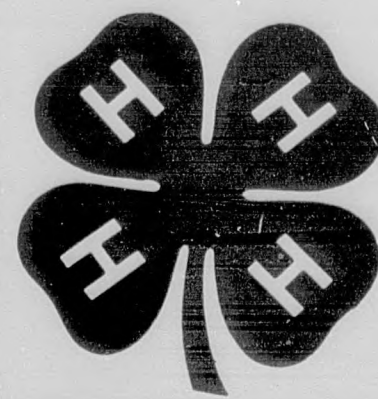

5th Grade Winners - Mrs. Mary Lois Wilson's class.

4th Grade Winners - Mrs. Callie Coleman's class.

Ms. Barrett explained that a social worker's job is to help children and their parents. The Alabama law that was established in 1975 recognizes four areas of child abuse and neglect. These areas are physical abuse, neglect, emotional abuse, and sexual abuse. The law defines a child as anyone under 18 years of age. Most studies show that parents who abuse were abused themselves as children.

Mr. Smith and Ms. Barrett urged the students to let someone know if they are being abused or if they know of someone who is being abused. People to contact are teachers and principals, the police,

I didn't have to umpire last weekend, so I packed up the family and left town for two days of relaxation. Relaxation? Shoot - between the ride, the shopping and staying up late each night - by the time I got home I was more tired than I was when I left. Maybe this weekend I'll umpire and get a chance to catch my breath!

DYL AND BR PLAYERS OF THE WEEK

There were plenty of good performances last week in both baseball leagues, making this week's picks extra difficult. After much deliberation, here are this week's Elba Clipper - Postfire Sporting Good's "Players of the Week":

Dixie Youth League - The top player last week was Keith Chandler of the Tigers. Keith played an errorless game at shortstop Monday night and came back Tuesday to pitch a three-hitter with 10 strike-outs. He also collected four hits in six at-bats to lead the Tigers to two big wins.

Babe Ruth League - Despite the fact his team lost twice, the top player last week was David Rowe of the White Sox. David pitched a total of six innings, allowing only five hits and striking out 12 batters. He also got five hits in six at-bats, including three doubles.

Congratulations to both players for winning this week's honor.

ROYAL CLASSICS ARE THE "CLASS" OF THE FIELD

The Women's Softball League in Elba may be small in size, but it's got one of the top teams in south Alabama in the Royal Classics. The Classics have competed in two tournaments and won them both, and in the league boast a 4-0 record. The league wins were by scores of 13-5, 19-0, 26-4 and 16-0; which all adds up to a score of 74-9 - not too shabby. The team has been together for a number of years and it looks like this year's squad could really be a "classic".

A GOOD YEAR FOR THE TIGERS

The 1984-85 school year will end next week and it has been quite a year for the Elba Tigers in all sports!

The Tiger football team posted the school's first undefeated regular season in 30 years and finished the season with a 10-1 record. The team also won its second straight Area 3 championship and had two players sign college scholarships.

The Tiger basketball team struggled at times, but came through when it had to and claimed both the Coffee County and Area 3 championships. The team was young, however, it grew up late in the season and left its mark. The Tiger baseball team finished strong to post a 7-4 record and in doing so posted the school's first winning record in the sport in 14 years. The baseball team was also filled with young players, but it too showed better days were ahead.

The Tiger golf team played a limited schedule, but improved steadily, and in the sectional tournament defeated such teams as Dothan, Enterprise, Lanier and Auburn. The golf team is the forgotten bunch; however, it held up its end of the deal and put the wraps on a very successful season. Congratulations to all the coaches and players for a fun year!
